Transfers

Where transfers have been requested, we can't guarantee these transfers will complete in time for:

- GIA funds for 2020/21 ISA subscriptions.
- SIPP funds for crystallisation in the 2020/21 Tax Year.
- ISA subscriptions to be made with Parmenion for the 2020/21 Tax Year, if there are current year's subscriptions with the previous ISA provider.

Website Tools

Unused allowances

ISA allowances expire at the end of each tax year and can't be carried forward. Our platform includes functionality to check unused subscription allowances for individual clients. Please speak to our Client Services team if you are not familiar with this functionality or want to cross check your own records.

Automatic Bed and ISA

Standard practice today is to make sure clients utilise ISA subscriptions at the start of the Tax Year, to maximise their tax benefits. Our platform incorporates functionality to allow the transfer to be executed automatically. To use this feature, it must be set up before close of business on 18th March 2021.

We recommend this procedure is followed for all new clients. For more information on this please contact our Client Services team.

Direct Debit Overflows

If there's no overflow portfolio set up for a client and we receive a Direct Debit into an ISA and it oversubscribes it for the current Tax Year, we'll return the full Direct Debit, regardless of whether they have some allowance left.

2020/21 Allowances

- ISA £20,000
- JISA £9,000

2021/22 Allowances

- ISA £20,000
- JISA £9,000

Please make sure that the money to fund subscriptions is available in good time, so your clients can make the most of their allowances.
